GALBRAITH SPRINGS.

"East Tennessee! Enchanting land,
Of gentle hills and Mountains grand,
Where healthful breezes ever blow,
And coolest springs and rivers flow;
Thy summers mild and grateful heat,
From sweltering suns give cool retreat."

GALBRAITH SPRINGS.

Dr. W. A. McCORKLE, who resides within three miles of these Springs, and has practiced medicine in the vicinity for thirty years, recommends them as follows: "The water of Galbraith Springs is recommended in the cure of Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Liver, Diseases of the Kidney, Diseases of the Bladder, Female Diseases, Sick Headache, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, and other diseases requiring a tonic."

S. M. MILLER, M. D., Rogersville, Tenn., March 17, 1891:

Four years since I wrote a paper for the U. S. Geological Survey on the Mineral Waters of Hawkins county, in which Galbraith Springs was especially dealt with on account of its superior properties. In this work I had occasion to investigate the matter and found that of all the chalybeate water of this belt, none was better than yours in point of real medicinal constituents. Persons requiring the tonic virtues of iron and the alterative effects induced by an increased activity of the kidneys and other vital organs, consequent

G. H. ULMER, Mobile, Ala.:

The water is very good, especially for the digestive and urinary organs.

Mrs. CLEM GWIN, Sullivan, Ala.:

Words are inadequate to express satisfaction, both in regard to the medicinal qualities of the water and every comfort.

CHAS. STUART, Mobile, Ala.:

There is at Galbraith Springs everything to make one comfortable and happy.

FRED JOHNSON and Wife, Mobile, Ala.:

We commend these Springs to those who wish an agreeable and healthful resort.

Rev. W. L. JONES, Panther Springs, Tenn.:

As a result of grippe, I had a violent attack of rheumatism. A few weeks' stay at Galbraith Springs did more for me than I thought it possible for any natural water to accomplish. It put me on the road to a permanent recovery.

R. B. FAKES, Ocala, Fla.:

I think there is no water of better medicinal quality.

Hon. J. A. BILLUPS, Carrollton, Ala.:

For insomnia, nervous prostration, indigestion, kidney affection, diarrhoea and paralysis, the water of Galbraith Springs stands unrivaled, and for paralysis this water seems to be the antidote; and for rheumatic attacks these Springs are almost a certain cure.

Hon. WM. MACWILLIAMS, St. Augustine, Fla.:

I recommend the Springs to those seeking a summer resort for health, pleasure and comfort.

J. HICKMAN TAYLOR, M. D., Knoxville, Tenn.:

I consider the water of Galbraith Springs to have strong chalybeate properties, and well suited to those cases in which iron is indicated.

M. J. REAMS, Knoxville, Tenn.:

I cheerfully recommend Galbraith's as a health resort.

W. J. O'CONNOR, Mobile, Ala.:

Its waters are cool and pleasant to drink, and are possessed of wonderful medicinal qualities. Its bracing climate and picturesque mountain scenery can not be surpassed.

CHARLES G. JOHNSON, New Orleans, La.:

I was prostrated by an attack of paralysis, and was advised to try the waters of Galbraith Springs. I received great benefit therefrom. I gained over thirty pounds in weight.

J. F. MORGAN, Houston, Fla.:

The purity and healthful qualities of the water, the excellence of the table, polite attention of servants, and cheapness of rate, all tend to make Galbraith Springs a desirable resort.

S. S. ALDERMAN, Iola, Fla.:

I gladly give my testimony to the efficacy of the water of Galbraith Springs.

FRANK RHODES, Cleveland, Ohio:

I became a visitor to these Springs upon the advice of a prominent physician, and my stay there confirmed his statement that I would find the water an aid to better digestion and very useful in contributing to my general health.

W. S. COOK, Mobile, Ala.:

May Galbraith continue to be what I found it, a home of rest and recuperation for poor, worn-out humanity.

G. A. VISANSKI, Abbeville, S. C.:

For persons of general debility, Galbraith's cannot be excelled anywhere.

W. R. SNEED, Point Coupee, La.:

It is cheaper to go to Galbraith's Springs and pay board than to stay at home and pay doctors' bills.

JOHN L. JOHNSON, Springfield, Mass.:

Of the highest medical properties of the water of Galbraith Springs, both scientific analysis and the experience and testimony of hundreds who have received a new lease of life from their use, leave no room for doubt.

J. BENJAMIN, Puerto Cortez, Honduras, C. A.:

The good water, beautiful scenery, splendid mountain air, quiet and home-like accommodations, make Galbraith Springs one of the most desirable resorts in the South for those in search of health.

Mrs. SARAH NENNY, Russellville, Tenn.:

It cures erysipelas and prolongs life.

JOHN C. O'CONNELL, Montgomery, Ala.:

Equal, if not superior, to any springs in East Tennessee.

FRANK D. CHRETIEN, New Orleans, La.:

One of the most charming health resorts in the United States.
